Please note that statistics will only be available from the active date of a mobile number. Please beware that moving people between groups and deleting people will also affect statistics.

Notifications

You will be able to view any notifications by the little green tab above the bell icon.

Once you click on this, you will be shown the new notifications and if you click on view all, this will open out to a full page view.

Here you can close the notifications by clicking on the pink cross.

You can also configure your notifications, like you would on first login, should you wish to change your notification preferences.
